John C. Felton Is Elected Head Of Tank Corps Asso; 200 Attend Reunion Dinner

John C. "Jack" Felton, Bala-Cynwood, Pa., emblem manufacturer, who was a second lieutenant with the heavy tanks unit at Camp Colt here in 1918 was elected national commander of the World Wars Tank Corps Association Friday afternoon at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Felton succeeds Glenn Hutton, Brenham, Texas, to the post, and was the general chairman for the convention being held here.

Dewey Hill, Whitestone, L. I., N. Y. was named first vice commander; Jack Wulf, Butte, Montana, assistant vice commander; Raleigh J. Cosgrove, Des Moines, Iowa, junior vice commander; Harry A. Goldman, judge advocate; Rev. P. H. McCormick, Scranton, chaplain; Frank C. Townsend, Elkhart, Ind., historian; Robert Midkiff, Knightstown, Indiana, sergeant at arms; Thomas E. White, Indianapolis, adjutant and finance officer.

Berger Assistant Adjutant
Clyde D. Berger, Merion Station, formerly of Gettysburg, was named assistant adjutant.

White, the national adjutant re-elected to that post, served as battalion bugler for President Eisenhower when he commanded a unit at Camp Colt here, and went overseas to sound taps for General Patton, at the time of his death after World War II.

Much of Friday's meeting was given over to discussion of a resolution that would in effect open the way for inclusion of Korean War veterans of the Armored Divisions as separate units of the Tank Corps Association while permitting the World War I members to remain as an individual group as well. The resolution was argued at great lengths from different viewpoints.

BURGESS GIVES TANKERS WARM WELCOME HERE

Burgess William G. Weaver, who recalls vividly the opening of Camp Colt on the Battlefield 36 years ago and witnessed the birth of the Tank Corps, delivered a warm welcoming address at the World Wars Tank Corps Association Homecoming-Reunion dinner Friday evening in the Hotel Gettysburg.

His brief talk follows:
"It is just a little difficult for me to know just how to best express a welcome to you of the American Fighting Tank Corps. I was a young boy, just ready to leave for my own World War I service, when you were born here in historic Gettysburg. I saw your arrival in Camp Colt as individuals, and in groups, and I witnessed the sadness of the influenza epidemic when it seemed that our whole town was a hospital and morgue."

"Fighting Outfit"
"It is interesting to recall how you developed into the fighting outfit that General Ludendorff said were too much for his machine guns. It is on one of the finest pages in American History that your deeds are written. You that were born here in Gettysburg and your descendants of the modern Armored Forces of the United States Army dominated the headlines in both World Wars."

"We of Gettysburg, therefore, feel

Changes Plans To Come Here With Tankers

Tanker Harold T. "Brick" Magee, Lewisburg, who read of the Tanker Association "by accident" in one of his local papers and cancelled plans for an extended vacation in order to be present with his old comrades, brought with him a piece of marble from Proctor, Vt., where tanker Jack Sullivan had fashioned the granite container for the Vermont soil to be placed on the roots of the memorial Pine Tree from the same slab out of which the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery was made.

Magee also brought with him a typed copy of General George S. Patton Jr.'s "History of the 304th (1st) Brigade, Tank Corps." Magee, who served with Patton in France after shipping out from Colt, met Patton when he was a colonel in command of Governor's Island, N. Y., and succeeded in obtaining his penciled notes on the Tank history. He had it typed, returned one copy to Patton and retained a copy for himself, the only one now in existence as far as Magee knows. The history contains a day-by-day account of the Brigade actions, casualty and citation lists.

Miss Garretson died August 10, 1954, at the age of 87.

MUMMERT CASE NEARS VERDICT; DROP 2 CHARGES

Trial of cases in the August term of Adams County court will continue into Monday.

Despite every effort to expedite the trial of Richard Paul Mummert, Hanover R. 3, Friday afternoon, in order to conclude the sessions within the day, the taking of testimony took up the entire afternoon, until 5:30 o'clock, and the court then instructed the jury to return Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock for the arguments by attorneys, the charge by the court, and deliberation and verdict by the jury.

Two-thirds of the "work" of the jury had "disappeared" by the end of the day. Mummert had started the trial charged with larceny of a wrist watch from a neighbor, Mrs. Thelma Hildebrand, and charged with burglary and larceny in connection with the alleged taking of army blankets from his next door neighbor, Jonathan Sipling.

Other Charges Dismissed
During the course of the trial, the court sustained motions by Defense Attorney Edward B. Bullett by which the charge of larceny of the watch and the charge of burglary in connection with the blankets was dropped. The jury's decision will deal only with whether Mummert took Sipling's blankets.

Mrs. Hildebrand, in her testimony, claimed Mummert gave her the blankets for taking care of Mrs. Mummert at the time her child was born. Mummert told the jury he gave Mrs. Hildebrand $20 and never saw the blankets. Mrs. Mummert agreed with her husband. Sipling claimed the blankets were stolen from his side of the attic in the house jointly occupied by him and the Mummerts.

Lack of evidence that the watch was taken by Mummert was given as the reason for dropping that larceny charge. The fact that Mummert had a right to the attic caused removal of the burglary charge in connection with the blankets.

Mummert Jury
The jury hearing the Mummert case includes Homer W. Baltzley, McKnightstown; Julia E. Baugher, Aspers; Arthur J. Bedford, Littlestown; Nelson Black, Biglerville; Mrs. Marion G. Ecker, 48 E. Stevens St.; Mrs. Richard Pink, Biglerville; Virginia Raffensperger, Biglerville; Mrs. Eva Ripley, Aspers; Levi J. Spangler, Gettysburg R. 4; Vernon Straley, Littlestown; Melvin E. Tressler, Gettysburg R. 4 and Emory Tuckey, Biglerville R. 1.

Other jurors called for the August term were excused when the Mummert case, the last on the schedule, began.

U.S. LINES HEAD VISITS TANKERS

General John Franklin, New York, president of the United States Lines, was one of the four distinguished generals present Friday night at Tanker festivities. He is the son of P. A. S. Franklin, who in World War I was head of the Merchant Marine and drafted by the government to take charge of all transatlantic ship movements of troops.

General Franklin shipped out with the 301st Bn. Heavy Tanks and trained in England as a second lieutenant. He returned from overseas a major in command of his unit after four major engagements in the British sector.

In World War II General Franklin was drafted to fill the same job that his father had held in World War I. Under General Somerville he was placed in charge of all supply and troop movements by water. His headquarters were in England, and with General Somerville, Franklin toured all the major battlefields of Europe and Africa. He returned to the states a major general.

General Franklin left today for his Rockville home where his daughter's fiancée returns after soldiering in Europe.

Lee M. Hartman, 56 Hanover St., this morning announced the sale of a property on the Fairfield Rd. by William J. Haldeman to Lawrence and Jeanne Parish, formerly of W. Middle St. Immediate possession was given. Mr. Haldeman has moved to Biglerville.

LICENSED TO WED

Carroll E. Frock, Emmitsburg, and Catherine A. Simpson, Littlestown, have secured a marriage license in Frederick.

John M. Bream, Biglerville Observes His 98th Birthday

John M. Bream, Biglerville, one of Adams county's oldest residents, today observed his 98th birthday.

Still active and in good health, he will be guest of honor at a family dinner at his home today. He resides with his only son, and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin U. Bream, who have been with the nonagenarian for the last four years.

Among the dinner guests will be Mrs. Charles Meister, of Gettysburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Norton Young and son, James, of Altoona. A life-long resident of the Biglerville area, he was a farmer most of his life. As a youngster on his father's farm along the Biglerville-Heidersburg Roads he had to take some of his father's livestock to the woods for safe-keeping while the Confederates moved through the area 91 years ago at the time of the Battle of Gettysburg.

While he recalls the scenes and incidents of the Civil War period around Biglerville, he regrets that he did not get to Gettysburg to see and hear Lincoln when the Civil War president made his address here. But in those days a trip from Biglerville to Gettysburg involved a lengthy journey and the youngster didn't have the opportunity, he said.

In addition to his son, other descendants include a granddaughter,

JOHN M. BREAM

Mrs. Coetta E. Chaiker, and two great grandchildren, Stephen Douglas and Nancy Elizabeth Chaiker, of Gettysburg.

The last survivor of his family of nine brothers and sisters, he is a son of the late William and Harriet Bream. He was married twice, first to the former Emma Gardner and then, after her death, to the former Dessa Wertz, of Altoona, who died about four years ago.

Here And There News Collected At Random

I'm just a wheel. A steering wheel. And you're my captain. Behind me you're the lord and master of a miracle. You can make me take the kids to school. You can turn me down the sunny road toward town. With me you can guide your goods to the market place . . . you can rush the sick to be healed . . . you can go in minutes to places hours away. You can do magic.

Yet, in the blink of an eye, in the tick of your watch, I can turn deadly killer. I can snuff out the life of a kid still full of life—maybe your kid. I can twist a smile into tears. I can wreck and cripple and destroy. I can deal out death like the plague. And I'm no respecter of persons. A child, a grand-mother, even you, my friend . . . it's all the same to me.

I'm sensitive. I respond instantly to the hands you give me. Give me calm hands, steady hands, careful hands . . . and I'm your friend. But give me unsteady hands, fuzzy-minded hands, reckless hands . . . then I'm your enemy, a menace to the life, the happiness, the future of every person, every youngster riding, walking, playing.

I was made for pleasure and usefulness. Keep me that way. I'm in your hands. I'm just a steering wheel. And you're my captain. Behind me you're the lord and master of a miracle . . . or a tragedy. It's up to you.

25 Are Graduated From Gettysburg College Friday

Gettysburg College's 12-week summer session closed Friday with 25 seniors receiving the Bachelor of Arts Degree from President Walter C. Langsam.

William L. Chambers, a chemistry major from Erie, Pa., and married to the former Jean Forry of Gettysburg, and Donald A. Griessman, a Latin major, formerly of 15 Chambersburg St., were among the graduates. Chambers and Griessman completed their necessary requirements on July 16.

Dr. Langsam addressed the graduates during a brief ceremony. Following is the text of his address:

"Our brief ceremony this afternoon has been arranged so that you will not 'just fade away' from your beloved campus; instead, we want you, like your friends who finish in the month of June, to leave your Alma Mater with official recognition of your status as graduates, and with a parting blessing from those who stay behind to carry on the work of Gettysburg.

Alumni Status

"The diplomas which I shall hand to you in a few minutes, will certify your new status as alumni rather than under-graduates. This certification means that, in the opinion of the Faculty, you have achieved certain goals that were set for you when first you entered Gettysburg some years ago.

"You have acquired some factual knowledge in each of several fields of culture, and special knowledge in a sphere of personal interest. This was the purpose of your required basic courses, followed by the so-called major courses and electives.

"Then, you have learned effective study habits and have gained the ability to concentrate on the work at hand. In other words, you presumably have learned how to get things done.

Values Remain

S. J. MATTINGLY DIES SUDDENLY NEAR HOSPITAL

Samuel J. Mattingly, 47, Delap Ave., a barber here for many years, died Friday afternoon in Baltimore, about two blocks from the University of Maryland Hospital to which he was being transferred by ambulance from the Warner Hospital here.

An autopsy was conducted at the Baltimore hospital today at the direction of the Baltimore medical director to determine the exact cause of death.

Mr. Mattingly had been brought to the local hospital at 11:15 o'clock Friday morning after he is believed to have suffered a cerebral hemorrhage at his home. He had gone into the bathroom of his home earlier Friday morning and apparently suffered a seizure there. The door of the room had to be removed before he could be moved from the room to the hospital.

R. M. Sohl, Delap Ave., told police that at Mrs. Mattingly's request he tried to enter the bathroom but found the door locked. Mattingly was unconscious when he was removed to the hospital.

Planned To Operate
Special treatment was planned and at 2:54 o'clock Friday afternoon he left here in the local ambulance enroute to Baltimore for an operation by a specialist.

A son of C. E. and the late Margaret (Smith) Mattingly, he was born in McSherrystown. He has been a barber in Gettysburg for about 22 years, 14 at the Varsity Barber Shop here and the last eight years in partnership with Harold Cromwell in a shop located in the Adams House at the intersection of Chambersburg and N. Washington Sts.

Surviving are his wife, the former Bernice McConley; four children, Nelson, with the U. S. Navy at Key West, Fla.; Robert and Richard, at home, and Mrs. Harold Hockensmith, Gettysburg; a grandchild; a brother, Edward J. Mattingly, Hanover, and six sisters, Mrs. Paul Liversberger, McSherrystown; Miss Edith Mattingly, McSherrystown; Mrs. Clair Beck, Hanover; Mrs. Charles Smith, York; Mrs. Warren Carbaugh, Hanover, and Mrs. John Smith, Hanover. His father also survives.

He was a member of the McSherrystown Moose and of the Eagles and Elks here.

FRENCH FARM STUDENTS TOUR 'FIELD FRIDAY'

Five French exchange students, observing agricultural methods on Adams County and Maryland farms, took a day off from their farm chores Friday for a tour of the historic Gettysburg battlefield.

The five represent a portion of a group of 32 students of a National Agricultural College in Rennes, who were granted travel visas through the World Service Center, New Windsor, Md.

The students, who lunched Friday noon at the Hotel Gettysburg, are: Bernard Prelat, Jura Region, near Switzerland, staying with Maurice E. Meunier, Taneytown, R. 2; Jean Dreiss, Lorraine, with Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Derr, New Windsor; Jacques Gallicher, Paris suburbs, with Mrs. John S. Teeter, Taneytown, R. 2, Md.; Louis Conan, Brittany, with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Leer, York Springs, R. 2, and Jean Mader, Brittany, with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Keffer, York Springs, R. 2.

Dr. Bachman Is Guide

Two other students placed on Pennsylvania farms but not accompanying the group here are: Madagascari-born Michel Lenoble, a Parisian, with Mr. and Mrs. William Romlin, Fairfield, R. 2, and Michel Courrot, Lorraine, with George E. Myers, Brodbeck.

Dr. Albert Bachman, head of the Romance Language Department at Gettysburg College, acted as spokesman, guide, and interpreter for the Friday tour. The trip and luncheon was arranged by Atty. Daniel E. Teeter. One of the group is a temporary resident at his mother's Taneytown farm.

The remaining 25 youths are located in the Maryland communities of Linwood, Westminster, Keymar, Union Bridge, Cooksville, Finksburg, West Friendship, and Sykesville.

The placement center, located at New Windsor, is one of three institutions in the United States interested in the furtherance of international assistance, placement, and exchange.

Picture Exhibit Will Close Sunday

Gettysburg's last chance to see the photographic exhibit at the Gettysburg National Bank will be during banking hours tonight and from 2 to 5 o'clock Sunday.

The exhibit is being sponsored by the Gettysburg National Bank and the Gettysburg Photography Society. The co-chairmen for the exhibit are Dr. Charles A. Sloat and Paul G. Pensinger.

The photographs first went on display last Friday and "quite a few people have stopped in to see them," said Mr. Pensinger.

RETAIL STORES TO REMAIN OPEN FRIDAY NIGHTS

The Retail Merchants Association Friday evening voted to remain open Friday and Saturday evenings.

The motion regulating weekend store hours will go into effect Friday, September 10, in conjunction with a special Fall sales campaign.

In passing the resolution, 14 to 5, the merchants also unanimously reaffirmed its customary Thursday afternoon "closed shop" stand.

The measure, initiated by Mrs. Glenn W. Gulse, proprietor of the Jack and Jill Shoppe, Lincoln Square, was introduced at a special session of the Retail Merchants in the Historical Room of the Court House.

The group directed that the directors confer with Gettysburg National Bank officials relative to the possibility of maintaining Friday evening bank hours in conjunction with the new weekend store setup. The bank is now open Saturday evenings.

Reject Poll Suggestion
A suggestion by R. H. Lippy that patrons of the Gettysburg shopping area be polled by post card or newspaper coupon of their desires to shop here Friday evening was countermanded by the Association's subsequent agreement to open the stores on the weekends.

Frank D. Hower, secretary-treasurer, reported a net profit of $438.84 for the recent Gettysburg Sale Days, July 30, 31. He said the figure represented a gain of $76.21 over the 1953 figure. R. V. (Bob) DeGolyer, Hanover, new proprietor of Bob's, formerly Benn's, at 1 Chambersburg St., was introduced.

Thirty merchants were present. Carl Baum introduced Edwin Hirschman as a new member of The Gettysburg Times news staff and announced that Ray Koehler is leaving to enter Columbia University.

Tank Briefs

Wilson Sweat, Charlotte, N. C., who scooped up the Dixie earth to ship to Gettysburg, was "the life" of Friday night's Tanker dinner.

Sweat led the singing, took care of introductions, and relaxed the assembly with his wit and humor. General L. C. Jaynes paid him tribute by pointing out that "he's the kind of fellow you have to have in your company when you're in action to ease the tension when things are grim."

There was a big round of applause when General Floyd Parks, after remarking that he'd stayed in the army because he enjoyed it, noted that behind every man stands a woman and introduced Mrs. Parks.

Col. L. J. Mulhall, public information officer at Fort Meade, is in the United States after nine straight years of foreign duty.

Clyde D. Berger, finance officer of the Tankers' Reunion, who weighs in now at about 125 pounds, was an Olympic diving, swimming, and boxing champion. He is Exalted Ruler of the Philadelphia Lodge of Elks.

There was a good cross section of America among the tankers: cops and bank presidents, privates and generals, Masons and Knights of Columbus.

Burgess and Mrs. William G. Weaver were hailed by Mr. and Mrs. George McAtee, who were married here back in Camp Colt days with the burgess's father and mother making all the arrangements for the newly weds.

Who says men don't hoard keepsakes. There was a lot of evidence from Colt. Lockets made of dog tags with strands of hair and a girl's picture; old ID cards; roster lists; discharge and casualty papers.

The pound of Connecticut soil to be used in the dedication of the Memorial Pine Tree at Camp Colt was dug from Colt Park, the former estate of Samuel Colt after whom the Gettysburg camp was named.

Almost all the generals in attendance were shavelheads at Colt. Gen. Parks moved up from private, General Semmes and Jaynes saw as much action in World War II as any other U. S. officer.

V. A. HARBAUGH IS SENTENCED TO WORKHOUSE

Vaughn Arnold Harbaugh, 37, R. 4, was sentenced to from 11 to 23 months in the Allegheny County workhouse on a morals charge by the Adams County court this morning. He was directed to pay the costs in the case and the court said the sentence beginning was to date back to June 22 when he was placed in the county jail to wait action of the court.

Paul Sheaffer, Shippensburg, charged with aiding and abetting a crime, was sentenced to 60 days and ordered to pay the costs. Sheaffer was accused of asking Hazel Barlick, a former waitress at the Shelter House, to take money from the cash register there May 20, telling her they would leave and be married afterward. Miss Barlick had previously been sentenced to 60 days on the charge of taking the money and the court told Sheaffer it felt he should receive an identical sentence. Sheaffer said the amount taken, approximately $20, had been repaid to Lloyd Stetter.

Sentence of William Lawver, 71, York Springs, on a charge of driving while under the influence, was postponed until September 20 to permit the court to check with Dr. John Menges, New Oxford, who has been treating Lawver for "a bad heart."

Sentence on the charges of driving while under the influence, and malicious mischief and assault and battery against Andrew Jackson Hensley, R. 2, fruit grower, was also postponed until September 20 to permit Hensley to complete the harvest of crops.

Basil C. Way, R. 4, was sentenced to 15 days, ordered to pay a fine of $100 and costs on a charge of failing to reveal identity at the scene of an accident.

George Northcraft, Cumberland, Md., charged with driving while under the influence, was sentenced to 30 days and ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county, and costs, with date of the sentence to start as of August 24.

2 LITTLESTOWN CYCLISTS HURT FRIDAY NIGHT

A 42-year-old Hanover motor scooter operator and two Littlestown motorcyclists were injured in two accidents in the Hanover area Friday evening.

The motorcyclists, James Krichen, 18, Littlestown, R. 2, and Franz Clemence Martin III, 17, of 12 Cemetery street, Littlestown, were treated by a Hanover physician for numerous abrasions and brush burns about the body and head and discharged.

The Hanoverian, Raymond C. Ginter, was admitted to Hanover Hospital suffering from a compound fracture of the left arm and a cut above the right eye. His condition was listed as satisfactory.

Police said Ginter was driving west on Third St. and collided with a car making a left turn at the Third Street Garage at 5:30 p.m. They said the driver of the car, Theodore H. Bish, 72, Hanover, was traveling east.

Ginter was moved to the hospital in the Hanover ambulance. Damage to the car was estimated at $75. The motor scooter was demolished.

Krichen, operator of the motorcycle, and Martin, his passenger, told a reporter they were driving on the Hanover-Littlestown temporary route and about four miles from Littlestown the vehicle skidded on the road. They estimated damage to the cycle at $150. The youths were brought to Hanover by a passing motorist.

24 Perish In South Dakota Plane Crash

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP)—A huge B36 bomber carried at least 24 crewmen to death last night when it crashed and burned during landing attempt at Ellsworth Air Force Base near here.

The public information office said three other crewmen aboard the plane were in "very critical" condition at the base hospital. The bodies of the dead were badly torn and burned.

At first searchers were kept away from the fuselage section of the broken ship by roaring flames. However, they were able to remove the last bodies about 6 a.m.

Officers said the heavy casualty list slowed the task of notifying the next of kin. No public identification of victims will be made until this is accomplished.

The blazing ship set several brush and grass fires. These were brought under control.

REMEMBER CAMP
COLT ACTIVITIES

The reunion of the former tank corps members here brings back fond recollections to numerous Gettysburgians who "knew them when" the men were gathered here for America's first tank training back in 1918.

Mrs. S. E. Kapp is among a group of former Biglerville residents who remember that the "boys" found loneliness far from home as they learned to soldier. She was among a group from Biglerville who came to Gettysburg to present entertainment for the soldiers at St. James Lutheran church in 1918. The soldiers enjoyed the entertainment and Mrs. Kapp found herself giving readings until her voice gave out and she was out of materials to read. The affair continued on into the night with the group merely conversing. For most of the tankers, just as it has always been for soldiers, the privilege of just talking in normal civilian conversations was a "bit of home" far from home.

Charles W. Culp Jr., local policeman, was another who was able to engage in memories at the return of the tankmen. It was his job as a policeman in 1918 to work with the Military Police from Camp Colt in "keeping the boys in line."

Well Behaved
Culp recalls that the tank men were well behaved soldiers—occasionally some overestimated their capacities at the bar, but generally they were most cooperative and appreciative of the help that could be given them by police and MPs. Culp recalls that the presence of the soldiers helped "brighten up" the town. Generally there would be singing by soldiers as they moved through the town in their spare moments, and laughter and brightness.

Taximen of the day found the soldiers a bonanza for business. Not only were there trips to and from camp, but the soldiers used taxis to visit Hanover, York and other nearby towns to see the sights. Culp can relate instances when taxis nearly disappeared under a deluge of soldiers when "the boys went back to camp."

Harry Cunningham, S. Washington St., remembers a lot about Camp Colt days. Since he was chief electrician at the site, Mr. Cunningham spent a lot of time there and remembers "sitting up many a night talking to the officers on guard duty. They were wonderful men and I really enjoyed my work out there" he said.

Flu Epidemic
The local electrician's wife, Mrs. Cunningham, also has a few memories about Camp Colt. She helped to arrange medical supplies and set up cots in Xavier Hall when the boys came down with the terrible influenza which took so many of the lives in World War I.

"The desks were removed from the classrooms in Xavier Hall," she remembered, "and the place became a real hospital."

Miss Mary Hay Himes, Carlisle St., started her work at Camp Colt as a volunteer librarian appointed by the Pennsylvania Library Commission to help with the libraries at the Knights of Columbus and YMCA buildings at the camp, but she became more famed as sponsor of what was termed "Himes Home Guard."

While serving as a librarian she and others began to realize that while entertainment offered in the churches of the town for the soldiers provided needed programs for the men off duty, there was also a great need for entertainment for the men who had to remain in camp. She enlisted the aid of a number of Gettysburgians who presented entertainments in the evenings at the camp. A Miss Louise Neville, sister of Lt. Paul Neville, who was stationed at the camp, and a singer in her own right, helped the local vocalists prepare for the entertainments at the camp. Among the favored singers was Mrs. Roy Zinn. Another whose presentation "stopped the show" was Miss Elsie Garlach, who offered readings from "Dere Mabel," the famed book of the date purporting to list the letters written by a soldier to his folks at home.

One Injured In
2 Traffic Mishaps

One person was injured in three traffic accidents on highways in York County Thursday.

Harry W. Sprengle, Spring Grove, R. 2, was treated at York Hospital for lacerations of the left eyelid and forehead suffered in an automobile-truck crash west of Glen Rock in Codorus Twp., York County. He was taken to the hospital here in the Glen Rock Lions Club Ambulance.

State police said they learned from Howard W. Ankeny, 22, of Abbotstown, R. 1, who was operating a truck owned by Jacob Herwitz, Baltimore, that he dozed at the steering wheel causing the vehicle to collide with an automobile being operated in the opposite direction by Sprengle.

State Trooper Leonard G. Stoffan, who investigated, estimated damage to the car at $900 and the truck $500.

Two 1954-model automobiles were damaged to the amount of $190 in a collision at 8 p.m. on the Pennville road, in Penn Twp., York County. No one was injured. The drivers were identified by state police as R. E. Clabaugh, 30, of Littlestown, and Paul Willet, 67, of Hanover.

CLERGY PRAISE
U. S. SYSTEM
OF ENTERPRISE

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Churchmen from many lands—including some from the Communist side of the Iron Curtain—have commended private enterprise as a spur to economic progress.

A report that that effect was approved late yesterday at the Assembly of World Council of Churches.

The declaration, regarded as a shift to the right in the organization's position on economic matters, made these points:

Freedom Recognized
The spread of governmental action in economic affairs "has been accompanied by a fresh recognition of the importance of relative freedom in enterprise and of the role of the price system."

Churches have been "properly critical" of monopolistic and irresponsible business practices but, at its best, the private business system "has provided incentives for the responsible initiative and hard work which produces economic progress."

The report also maintained that "government must be ready to 'counteract depression or inflation' and to 'relieve the impact of unemployment, industrial injury, low wages, unfavorable working conditions, sickness and old age.'"

Improve Local Welfare
Christians were urged to work for "improved national or local welfare legislation and for the provision of adequate medical care."

The report advocated increased production and "a greater measure of equity in the distribution of wealth and income."

It said farmers should have "a reasonable measure of security of income."

Place Responsibility
It also suggested that trade union, farmer and employer associations and other groups should be responsible to their members and society as a whole.

The statement—endorsed unanimously by representatives of 163 denominations in 48 countries—differed in its treatment of capitalism and government's role in society from the report adopted at the Council's first assembly at Amsterdam in 1948.

POLIO REPORT
SHOWS $1,017
IN DONATIONS

Donations to the current emergency fund campaign of the Adams County Unit of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis more than doubled during the week. Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, general chairman of the March of Dimes drive announced today. The total today is $1,017.10.

The solicitation, held in addition to the regular January March of Dimes, and part of the nation-wide attempt to raise $20,000,000 to carry on the work of the foundation during the remainder of the year, is being conducted entirely by mail.

Approximately one-half of the donations, $507.33, have been mailed through the Gettysburg post office. Mrs. Codori's report shows. The contributions, listed by post office through which the sums were sent, now total: Abbotstown, $15; Arendtsville, $33.50; Aspers, $14; Bendersville, $20.50; Biglerville, $68.40; Cashtown, $7.40 (same amount as last week); East Berlin, $44.75; Fairfield, $22.80; Gardners, $33.32; Gettysburg, $507.33; Greenstone, $3; Guertsey, $7 (same as last week); Hampton, $11; Iron Springs, $2.50; Littlestown, $75.55; McKnightstown, $5 (same as last week); New Oxford, $54.50; Orrtanna, $31 (up from $7 last week); Peach Glenn, $1 (same as last week); Seven Stars, $1; Table Rock, $1; York Springs, $62.55.

Desperate Need
While no quota has been set for the campaign, the county unit is hopeful of obtaining as great an amount as possible because of the "desperate need" of the national foundation for funds. Increased incidence of polio cases plus the largest "carryover" of cases in history from last year, plus increased costs of polio care is causing the organization to make ever larger outlays for polio patients. At the same time it is seeking to complete a mass vaccination test involving some 300,000 school children, provide sufficient gamma globulin for the nation as a protection against polio, paralysis and other diseases, and also continue to carry on its research and education program.

yesterday on a routine training flight.

Wreckage Widely Scattered
The wreckage was scattered widely over a quarter mile area, one officer reported. He described the weather as "perfect" at the time the ship was to have landed.

Officers said the plane apparently struck a small hill as it approached the lengthy runway and was burst apart and fired within seconds. It came down about a mile and a half from the base on the ranch of Alfred Swallow located about 13 miles west of this southwestern South Dakota City of 25,000.

Swallow and his son, Harold, said they were about to retire when they felt a "concussion which shook the ground." They saw flames light up the sky immediately and drove to the scene.

Pierce flames were sweeping the wreckage by the time they reached it. They said pieces of the ship were scattered over a wide area. Swallow also said there were a number of explosions, apparently of fuel tanks and ammunition. The plane had been on a routine training flight out of the Ellsworth Base, which is 13 miles west of Rapid City. The crash occurred about 11:15 p.m. EST.

Names of all victims were being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

To some people, said "Washington Report," in its account of the proceedings, "that may seem like a flimsy bulwark against the troubles of the week, but it is the deep undercurrent of faith that makes the devotionals memorable." Fulton businessmen say "these meetings give me greater confidence in myself and more faith in God"; "you feel refreshed, eager and spiritually fit to tackle your problems"; "the services are developing a spirit of co-operation among us."

Lorine L. Hughes, managing director of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, said the business men recognize that by improving themselves as individuals, they will strengthen their community.

Entertainers Please Diners
The spirit of the occasion was caught by the entertainers of the evening, Miss Patsy Bushey, singer, Miss Sue Smith, her accompanist, and Mrs. Mary Howe, accordionist. Old tankers wandered down memory lane as Miss Bushey and Mrs. Howe broke forth with "Dixie," "Yankee Doodle," "There's a Long, Long Trail A-Winding," and "Keep the Home Fires Burning." Both entertainers wandered from table to table playing requests on every side. The association tendered them a special vote of thanks for their efforts.

The dinner adjourned about 9 p.m. and the tank veterans renewed acquaintances in the hotel lobby. Largest delegation at the reunion was Co. A, 303 Heavy Tanks, with nine members in attendance. Co. B had four members present. About 25 women and children were in attendance.

POULTRY QUEEN TO BE CROWNED AT DUTCH DAYS

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Ten regional poultry queens today vied for the state poultry crown at the sixth annual Pennsylvania Dutch Days celebration.

The competition was a highlight of the annual celebration and was to conclude activities at the three-day festival.

But judges in the poultry queen competition faced a problem in the contest. The Funk sisters, identical twins Arlene and Doris, were entered as one for the title.

Have Barbecue
Preceding the queen selection in the Hershey Stadium, poultrymen prepared barbecued chicken dinners for some 15,000 people. In other parts of the celebration old-time craftsmen demonstrated trades nearly extinct everywhere but in Pennsylvania's Dutch country.

A German band circulated through the crowd tooting popular Pennsylvania Dutch favorites such as the "Schmitzbank" song and a mixed chorus of 40 voices sounded off in an hour long concert of German songs.

Other girls entered in the competition for the poultry queen title who last year by Miss Helen Graybill, of Lancaster County were: Dorothy M. Whetstone, Martinsburg, representing Blair County; Jean A. Decker, Middleburg, R.D. 1; Snyder County; Emma Willier, Pittman, Schuylkill County; Joyce Wright, Millertown, Perry County; Arlene Rubley, Silver Springs, Lancaster County; Elsie Eshelman, Mohnton, Berks County, and Nancy Myers, Bedminster, Bucks County.

RUNOFF VOTING 'IN TEXAS TODAY

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers and his opponent for reelection—Ralph Yarborough—squared off today in a Democratic runoff primary hailed as an Eisenhower popularity test.

The vote was expected by many to exceed the 1,348,000 total cast in the July 24 primary in which Shivers led Yarborough by 23,787 votes.

Shivers campaigned for Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952, taking the state party organization with him, and carrying Texas for the GOP for the second time since reconstruction days following the Civil War.

He did it, he said, because Eisenhower promised a return of the supposedly oil-rich tidelands to state ownership. Democrat Adlai Stevenson, Shivers said, believed in federal ownership.

But Yarborough said Shivers promised House Minority Leader Sam Rayburn, the Democratic convention's chairman, that he would return to Texas and support the Democratic nominee, Rayburn and other Democratic leaders concurred with the Yarborough contention.

like parents who have long awaited a child's return, and now are privileged to take that child into our arms again. Friendships were created here 36 years ago of which this reunion is an expression of what I hope is a mutual respect for each other. The best example of a mutual liking is in your own, then little known but now famous, commander-President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Everybody in Gettysburg liked Ike and Mamie and proof that they liked us is the fact that they are going to retire here on their Gettysburg farm. We all liked Floyd Parks as a lieutenant and now as a general, he too has returned to us on several occasions to help with Gettysburg celebrations. Others of you married in our midst. I could go on and on and cite reasons why the American Fighting Tank Corps and Gettysburg are almost one and the same.

Proud Of Tankers
"We here in Gettysburg are used to welcoming distinguished guests, but since I have been burgess—mayor to most of you—I have never welcomed a group that we were more proud to have. It is customary in a welcoming address to tell a group that we have here, but to you that crawled, marched and doubled-time over all of Adams County I need not do that. Let it be sufficient to say that you left your imprint in our hearts in 1918 and now 36 years later you are back to leave another imprint on our community. You are to be congratulated on this reunion and as burgess it is a pleasure and an honor to welcome you most heartily to your 1918 birthplace. Enjoy your stay to the fullest and come back often."

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China's propaganda voice booms bitterly against Formosa these days yet there is no evidence of an invasion buildup. Persons in a position to know say the Reds still seem to lack ships and gear for a big amphibious move.

This invasion talk could be a kind of diversionary music. It already has served to widen the disagreement between Britain and the United States over Formosa, specially over including Formosa in a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Diverts Attention
And it has drawn attention away from Peiping's Southeast Asia plans, including the Thai autonomy maneuver sparked by the sudden reappearance of Thailand's former Premier Pridi Phanomyong.

Pridi, held in much respect in Thailand despite his defection to Communist China, is heading the Yunnan Thai autonomous movement in Red China. Peiping denies the Thailand Foreign Ministry's charge that the free Thai movement is a plot to invade.

Candidates to succeed Enoch Thomas Jr., of Forty Fort, are Richard Grifo, Easton, and Clifford H. McWilliams, Johnstown.

However, the appearance of George Bloom, administrative assistant to U.S. Sen. Edward Martin, gave rise to the rumors that a third candidate might appear.

Though he is a native of Washington County, Bloom denied he had anything to do with the Washington County Young GOP delegation which has shied away from backing either Grifo or McWilliams.

Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, GOP candidate for governor, was to address the 250-member delegation at evening activities.

IKE MAY FACE NEW BATTLES NEXT JANUARY

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower may face new congressional battles in January over proposals to limit treaty-making powers and to restore high, rigid price supports for major farm field crops.

The President won victories on both issues in the 83rd Congress which ended its legislative work last week. But opponents have announced they will be back with new ammunition when the 84th Congress convenes after the first of the year.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) says he is going to start all over again to fight for a constitutional amendment aimed at preventing treaties from overriding state laws and constitutions.

The Senate wrestled with this issue almost two months last winter before shelving it. The Eisenhower administration opposed the Bricker amendment on grounds it would hamper the President's conduct of foreign policy.

Seek Senate Approval
As an outgrowth of this bitter fight, Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, and Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, the GOP Policy Committee chairman, sought to require submission to the Senate of all international agreements within 60 days after they are signed. This measure died, but Ferguson says he will try again.

Congress enacted a flexible price support program this year along lines urged by Eisenhower, but only after a hot fight in both Senate and House. The bill is awaiting Eisenhower's signature.

This new program—which calls for a sliding scale of supports ranging between 82½ per cent and 90 per cent of parity—may get its first test of popularity among the farmers themselves when they go to the polls Nov. 2.

Should the voting in farm areas reflect a strong choice between candidates backing flexible props and those calling for a return to price floors at 90 per cent of parity, future congressional activity on this issue may be governed accordingly.

Parity is a farm price standard declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to the costs of the things they buy.

Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), who is running for reelection, has promised to seek legislation to restore rigid supports, which were war-born. Other Congress members have made similar pledges.

SAYS CRITICISM IS "LOOSE TALK"

HARRISBURG (AP)—Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, today termed "loose talk" a Democratic statement that the Republican leadership in the state is stirring up unemployment.

Horst referred to a statement by Sen. George M. Leader, Democratic candidate for governor that "unemployment in Pennsylvania is being deliberately stirred up because the Republican leadership likes a little hard times."

Horst said in a reply statement: "No one wants hard times, unless it is the Democratic party so it can again plunge the nation into another period of inflation."

GOP Promotes Employment
"The record of the Republican Party in Pennsylvania has been one of promoting employment and prosperity, contrary to the ignorant and willful misrepresentations."

Firemen's Carnival To Close Tonight

Despite the damp weather, a large crowd attended the Kingsdale Firemen's carnival Friday evening. Many ox roast suppers were served after 6 p.m. Entertainment was provided by Ray Snow's Little Dutch Band from Harrisburg.

The carnival will close this evening, when the grand prize, a 1954 Buick Special sedan, will be given. There will be a concert by the 125-piece combined bands from the Littlestown High School and New Oxford High School, under the direction of Paul A. Harner. Ox roast suppers will be served by the Ladies' Auxiliary, beginning at 4 o'clock. The public is invited.

It was incorrectly stated in Friday's Times that Janet Forsythe, Westminster, R. D., was second place winner of the beauty contest at the carnival on Thursday night, and that Jean Hyken, Arendtsville, was third place winner. The contest judges declared Miss Hyken as runnerup and named her second place contestant, and Miss Forsythe was named third.

STEAL FORTUNE IN HOME SAFE

EW YORK (AP)—Thieves, waiting until the family maid went on an errand, Thursday broke into a home in the wealthy Riverdale section of the Bronx and carted off a small safe containing nearly a quarter of a million dollars—mostly in securities.

The mid-afternoon burglary took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Lichtenstein, currently vacationing in Pike, N. H. He is vice president of Associated Metals and Minerals, Inc., New York.

A police alarm is out for a light blue station wagon seen around the neighborhood during the time of the theft.

The maid, Mrs. Helma Helmenchen, said she found the family safe missing from a bedroom closet after she returned from a two-hour errand.

It was not immediately learned how many of the securities are negotiable.

The people of Southbury, Conn. believe that theirs is the only U.S. community of that name.

of the Democratic nominee. "It is no secret that when the Democrats controlled the state government, industry fled the state and widespread unemployment followed."

Leader said in a speech Thursday at Reynoldsville that the Republicans' "biggest campaign contributors prefer a certain amount of unemployment because it creates a favorable labor market—one in which the big stick of collective bargaining can be used against workers everywhere."

Today's Talk

THE LOVE OF GOD

I like to think of the love of God as something that has been distributed far and wide, like seeds in the Summer and Autumn which the wind scatters. We have our fields of wild flowers and in far off places where they are more as visitors than anything else, because of their rarity.

God's love is, in like manner, scattered, so that it may take root in many lives, and therefore become an abundant blessing, assimilated, given nourishment, and richness, then passed on to others—to the ill in body or mind, the discouraged, or the troubled. The love of God is a medicine and a remedy that never fails. It has a silent tread into the mind and heart.

No matter what the experience of any of us in our human relationships, with the love of God is always uplifting. It's so full of understanding, never reprimanding, always spreading out, like visiting nurses upon missions of love and mercy. The love of God lingers in one place only long enough to vent its blessing. Then it must be on its way where most needed. What a blessing to this fear-filled world is this love of God, for it is permanent and eternal. A mere nod will bring it your way! Willingness of acceptance is all that is necessary.

If nations had this love of God in their make-up, there would be a kindly and co-operative spirit that would work for the great benefit and happiness of all concerned. No wars could be initiated under the spell of the love of God. Fewer families would be broken and children, confused and mystified, would have a silent friend as guide over the troubled waters.

Every one of us needs this love of God in our hearts. It will give us hope and assurance when things look dark and all tangled up. You won't have to speculate as to what will happen if you adopt the love of God as a plan and a purpose.

STATE WORKERS SEEKING SOCIAL SECURITY RULES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's social security director Friday visioned a run on his office when all details of the new federal social security law are explained.

"From all indications, when the full bill is published and we know exactly what's in it, I believe there will be a rush by state workers of Pennsylvania to get into the program," said William L. Windsor, director of the Bureau of Social Security of the State Labor and Industry Department.

He disclosed that during the past months while the bill was before Congress there was "a steady stream" of state workers "running in here all the time seeking information."

Shore Employees Eligible

Under new provisions of the law approved by Congress and the President some 3½ million additional state and local government employees will be eligible to join the federal plan.

Until now, under provisions of the old law, none of Pennsylvania's estimated 50,000 employees were eligible for such benefits because their jobs all came under the State Retirement Plan, Windsor explained.

I know a lot of state employees are just waiting to find out the provisions of the new bill," he declared. "Lots of municipal workers in the state are holding up joining the plan under the new bill."

The new social security bill calls for the governors of all state to conduct an election among state workers on whether they wish to come under federal social security. A majority of eligible employees must vote and two-thirds must favor acceptance before coverage can be extended to all state workers.

The Pennsylvania State Council of Public Employees (APLE) has already notified Gov. John S. Fine that it favors an immediate vote on the topic and that the council and affiliated groups favor extension of the coverage.

When and if Pennsylvania state employees vote to accept coverage it will be administered through the Social Security Bureau, Windsor said.

"However, we must wait until we get the full bill and it is analyzed by our legal authorities, before we can make any announcements," he said.

Taper Off Work At Sunbury Plant

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP)—The Westinghouse Electric Corp. tapered off production work at its Sunbury television plant Friday but said shifting of the work to its Metuchen, N. J., plant would be a gradual process.

The corporation had fixed Friday to close out its Sunbury plant but said sets on the production line would be completed and that a gradual thinning out of work would extend until the forepart of September.

Some 700 workers were employed at the plant when the decision was made in April to shut down the plant and transfer its operations to the Metuchen plant. Since then the production force has been reduced to 500 and other layoffs were posted for this weekend.

NEW FINANCE MINISTER TAKES OFFICE IN RIO

By ROMAN JIMENEZ
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Eugenio Gudin, head of the Brazilian Institute of Economics, was sworn in as Brazil's new finance minister Thursday night to steer the nation through its serious economic crisis.

The 68-year-old economist said his first concern would be the coffee situation. Declining exports of this main Brazilian product have caused a severe foreign exchange shortage.

Gudin promised also to do his best to stabilize prices and curb state expenses in an effort to halt growing inflation.

President Joao Cafe Filho appointed Gudin Thursday to replace Oswaldo Aranha, who resigned this week with the rest of the Cabinet of ex-President Getulio Vargas after Vargas killed himself.

Author of Books

The new finance minister has been connected with American and British cultural institutions and has written a number of books on economics. He was president of the Brazil-United States Institute in 1941. In 1944, he was the Brazilian delegate to the Bretton Woods world financial conference.

In addition to handling out the finance portfolio Thursday, Cafe appointed Edmundo Jordao de Valle as navy minister. He formerly was the ministry's director of navigation.

He also named Gen. Canrobert Pereira da Costa chief of staff of the armed forces and Lucas Lopes, a member of the big Social Democratic party, as transport minister.

With the country generally back to normal following the riots touched off by Vargas' suicide, a police source expressed confidence that the outlawed Communist party was too weak to cause serious trouble.

New Oxford

NEW OXFORD—Bernard Gebhart, Fidelis Ling, Lawrence Bevenour, James Carbaugh, Francis Carbaugh, Jr., Thomas O'Brien, Sr., and James Robinson recently represented the Holy Name Society of the local Catholic Church at one of the weekend laymen's retreats at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

Mrs. Emily G. Hutson, who established residence some time ago with her daughter, Mrs. Chester Loper, Pine Run, has been visiting a son at Levittown. Mrs. Hutson is a former resident of Cooperstown, N. Y.

Miss Margaret Ann Moul, East Berlin, gave a private recital of semi-classical music on Thursday at Zion Lutheran Church, York.

Since the formulating of the new schedule of Masses at the local Catholic Church, now providing for three Sunday Masses instead of two, at 7, 8:30 and 10 a.m., it has been decided to have the parochial school children mark their monthly communion Sunday in a body at the 8:30 mass instead of at the 7 a.m. mass. The Blessed Virgin Sodality, Holy Name and Rosary Societies will mark their monthly group Sundays at the 7 o'clock Mass.

The Rev. Philip J. Gergen, pastor of the local Catholic parish, has announced that the weekday Mass of Monday mornings will now be celebrated in the convent chapel across the street from the church at 8 a.m.

David Clair Mummert, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair H. Mummert, was given prize as the "youngest baby present," at the recent reunion of the Emma J. Mummert family, conducted at the Grange Hall in Hanover. Mrs. Emma Mummert lives at Hanover R. 3.

Mrs. Lillian Mickleby Juditz, Pine Run, will have charge of group singing and also give a reading next Saturday, September 4, for the annual cobs Family reunion at the Adams County Fairgrounds.

Highway Department Takes Road Bids

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Department of Highways called for bids Friday on Sept. 17 for improving 6.50 miles of roadway, including:

Delaware County—Chester Twp., City of Chester, construct 1.23 miles of divided highway, reinforced concrete pavement, three I-beam bridges for interchange, one over the highway, one over P. B. & W. Railroad and one under Findland drive; roadway grading and storm sewers; construct ramps with reinforced concrete pavement.

Northumberland and Montour—U. S. 11 in Mahoning and Point Twp., Danville Borough, construct 3.06 miles of crushed aggregate base with bituminous surface, including extension of existing reinforced concrete structure over Webbs Run; two reinforced concrete boxes; one I-beam bridge over Mahoning Creek, from Danville Borough westerly.

TURNPIKE LINK TO PHILADELPHIA WILL BE OPENED

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
HARRISBURG (AP)—The 12-mile Schuylkill Expressway from the Pennsylvania Turnpike to Philadelphia City Line definitely will open to traffic next Wednesday, Highways Secretary E. L. Schmidt said Friday.

And if things proceed according to plan, the smooth dual highway on the heights above the Schuylkill River may be the second in the state to permit a 60-mile per hour speed limit.

Schmidt said he will confer with Gov. John S. Fine on just how much of the road should be open to the above 50 mile per hour rate. Fifty is the normal maximum speed permitted on public highways in Pennsylvania. The lone exception is Rt. 22, for 33 miles east of Harrisburg, where 60 has been permitted on an experimental basis since last January.

"We will study very carefully the traffic behavior on the Schuylkill Expressway," said Schmidt. "What we do in the way of speed limits will be determined by this study."

The secretary said that recent checks on Rt. 22 have shown much better driving behavior than was evidenced some months ago.

A 50-mile limit will have to be kept while cleanup work proceeds on the expressway, Schmidt said. And a 35-mile zone will be set up for at least a mile above Philadelphia city line for the time being.

Some schools in rural districts were scheduled to open next Monday.

The order prohibiting the opening of schools is in line with the restrictions issued by medical authorities a week ago restricting children 16 years of age and under from theaters, churches, Sunday schools and all public gatherings as a precautionary measure against the spread of polio.

MEN WITHOUT DAUGHTERS

I wonder how men without daughters to aid Remember the dates when a gift should be made? Who does the shopping for socks and for ties, The glassware for weddings, the birthday surprise? Few presents I'd send, although not by design, Were it not for those two willing daughters of mine.

How do men without daughters, as lonely as I, For all glad occasions know just what to buy? Who chooses the card that should go with the gift, Spends more than she would if she understood thrift? Who does the wrapping for them, without fee, As my daughters so willingly do it for me?

This is one of the trials of living alone: I must be reminded when twelve months have flown, I have to be told when a gift should be sent, And learn from the bill how much money was spent. If they are as careless and thoughtless as I, I wonder how men without daughters get by?

Dodgers Start Moving Up; Nats Beat Indians In 10th As Yanks Trim Tigers 4-0

By BEN PHLEGAR

Associated Press Sports Writer
It's been a long time coming but the Brooklyn Dodgers finally are showing flashes of the brilliant form that made last year's pennant race a breeze.

With three good games under their belts the Dodgers are set for a triumphant tour through the West and the return home when they run head-on into the New York Giants in a three-game series next weekend.

Going into today's games they trailed the Giants by 3½ lengths and Manager Walt Alston said he had hopes of cutting the deficit to 3 or 2½ before the New York series.

Hot Streak

"I just hope we can stick on their tail and then get a hot streak in the last week of the season."

That last week the Dodgers have six games—three with Pittsburgh and three with New York.

The Dodgers showed their mighty power in swamping Cincinnati twice and last night they displayed the vital ability to fight back under pressure when they licked the St. Louis Cardinals 8-4.

Pinch Homer

Brooklyn went into the ninth inning trailing 4-2. A two-run pinch-homer by rookie Walt Morin tied the score and the Dodgers piled on four runs in the 10th to win going away.

Only the starting pitching has been spotty in their recent outings. Carl Erskine was belted for four runs in four innings last night. Fine relief work by Pete Wojciechowski, Clem Labine and Jim Hughes saved the game.

The Giants put a temporary halt to Milwaukee's pennant aspirations with a 3-1 triumph before a Milwaukee record crowd of 46,944. The Braves got to Sal Maglie for a run in the first inning but the veteran right-hander settled down and held them helpless the rest of the way.

Cleveland's American League lead over New York was trimmed to 3½ games when the Indians were beaten by Washington, 3-2 in 10 innings, and the Yankees defeated Detroit 4-0. The Chicago White Sox trounced Philadelphia 11-0. Boston shaded Baltimore 3-2 and took over fourth place from Detroit.

The Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3 in 12 innings and Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 3-2 on Ted Kluszewski's 37th homer in the last of the ninth.

Bobby Feller lost a heartbreaker to Johnny Schmitz in the Washington-Cleveland battle. The winning run scored when outfielder Dave Philley booted Mickey Vernon's single long enough to allow Pete Runnels to score from first base in the 10th. Feller gave up only three hits, all bunts, between the second and the 10th.

Morgan Beats Tigers

Tom Morgan of the Yankees held the Tigers at bay with six hits, never more than one to an inning. The shutout was the 16th suffered by the Tigers, tops in the league this season. Irv Noren hit his 11th home run.

Triples by Jim Rivera and Minnie Miñoso and a home run by Johnny Groh led to eight runs for Chicago in the third inning at Philadelphia. Harry Dorish, normally reserved for relief duty, pitched the shutout.

Boston's winning run against Baltimore came in the sixth with Harry Agganis, who had singled and moved around on an error, scoring after Ted Lepcio's long fly.

Triple Play

The Cubs tied the Phillies in the ninth on a home run by Ernie Banks, then won in the 12th when Hal Jeffcoat singled, scored on a throw on an error and scored on a beautiful squeeze bunt by Gene Baker.

The Redlegs completed the first triple play in the National League this season. With Frank Thomas on second and Ed Gordon on first Jack Shepard bounced to third baseman Bobby Adams who stepped on the bag, threw to Johnny Temple at second and Temple's relay to first baseman Kluszewski beat Shepard.

Paddy Young Will Fight Taylor Tonight

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Paddy Young, who has been on the shelf for the past six months with an ear injury, returns to ring action tonight when he meets Joey Taylor in a 10-round, bout at War Memorial Auditorium.

Young, a New Yorker, was beaten by Middleweight Champion Bobo Olson a year ago, and said he would demand another match if he wins this one against Taylor, who has been near by Binghamton.

Taylor started a comeback a year ago after suffering an eye injury and has won three bouts in the interim. Young, however, rules a 1-3 favorite.

The bout will be televised (ABC) nationally starting at 9 p. m.

YOUTH HURLS FOUR-HITTER

By DICK HOENIG

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A shy boy, described by his father and coach as "not a pitcher by trade," is the youngest responsible for bringing the 1954 Little League championship to Schenectady, N. Y.

Billy Masucci, 12-year-old blond lad, hurled a four-hitter and chipped in with a home run and a single to lead his team to a 7-5 victory over Colton, Calif., in the final of the 8th annual World Series for small fry here yesterday.

"That was the worst game I ever saw him pitch. He hasn't done much pitching this year—why he's my first string catcher and a fine one at that," explained Louis Masucci, Billy's father and coach of the Schenectady All-star club.

Billy got his team off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when he walloped the first pitch to him high onto the earthen ditch beyond the outfield walls of original Little League Park. Jim Barbieri, who had singled, was on base.

Masonstown defeated Melrose Park, Ill., in the consolation final yesterday, 7-1, in nine innings—three more than the regulation distance.

U.S. GRID FANS SEE FOOTBALL CANADIAN STYLE

By JACK HAND

TORONTO (AP)—United States fans get their first glimpse of Canadian brand football with its 12-man teams and five-point touchdowns today as Ottawa and Toronto open the "Big Four" season with television cameras blinking from atop Varsity Stadium.

About 20,000 fans will be present but the TV network (NBC) expects millions of viewers to be tuned in at the 2 p. m. (EDT) kickoff time.

Canadian experts say you won't notice too much difference from U. S. football once the game has rolled along for five or 10 minutes, although there are a few startling variations. Naturally they are hopeful that the wide open game will catch the eye of fans south of the border.

The 12th man is an extra backfield player, used at wingback, but the offense needs all the help it can get to make the necessary 10 yards in only three downs. There are no time out periods, except in case of injury, fakes or otherwise, and no downfield blocking is permitted 10 yards past the line of scrimmage. The field is 110 yards long, so they actually have a 56-yard line.

Colors on earth "seemed to start changing," its roundness showed clearly and the sun was "so much brighter it was almost blinding,"

he told a press conference yesterday.

The conference followed an Air Force announcement the veteran combat and test pilot was the man who took a Bell X1A rocket-powered experimental aircraft to new heights.

Air Force Secretary Harold E.

Talbott announced the record last

Saturday but withheld announcement of the pilot's name until yester-

Bubblers To Get New Scoreboard

The Bolling Springs High School Athletic Association is busily planning for the coming football season which is only about three weeks away. The Bubblers open their season at home with Camp Hill on September 11.

The Booster Club of the school has purchased a large new electric scoreboard which will be placed at the east end of the field. The scoreboard will arrive next week and will be ready for the opening game. Members of the Booster Club are working at the field in the evening, erecting a large refreshment stand which will provide better facilities and service to the fans. The press box has been repaired and the bleachers have been painted. An improved public Address System should help the fans enjoy the game much better this year. All of these improved facilities will be ready for the opening game.

SUN IS ALMOST BLINDING AT 17 MILES UP SAYS YOUNG OFFICER

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Trees turn olive drab and dry grass looks like straw from 17 miles up, says the man who flew higher in the sky than any other human.

And the earth really looks round up there, observes Maj. Arthur Murray, the 35-year-old Pennsylvanian who started his military career on a horse and recently broke the world's altitude record.

Colors on earth "seemed to start changing," its roundness showed clearly and the sun was "so much brighter it was almost blinding," he told a press conference yesterday.

The conference followed an Air Force announcement the veteran combat and test pilot was the man who took a Bell X1A rocket-powered experimental aircraft to new heights.

Air Force Secretary Harold E. Tal

Expert Recommends Checkup Of Car After Vacation Trip

When trailing behind a hesitating driver smart motorists remember the old maxim that the worn will turn.

That vacation may be over for the year but it was no special picnic for the car and you'd be smart to send it to the shop for a check-up. All too often serious troubles develop after a car has served so well on the big trip of the year. Among attentions that would be most appropriate at this time is a taking up of brake shoe clearances to compensate for lining wear. I would drain off the cooling system and refill it with fresh water and soluble oil rust inhibitor added. If the spark plugs were not a cool enough type for the higher speed at which the car may have been operated their points will show erosion and it may be necessary to replace them. Better check fluid level in the automatic transmission or torque converter.

Something few motorists seem to consider is need for tightening chassis parts, especially springs. I would take a look at the brakes to make sure that in the heat of the summer no lubricant has worked into the drums from the bearings. Check, too, for evidence of misalignment of front wheels. Unusual tire tread wear is your clue.

Having valves stick after a valve job is discouraging but fairly likely if not enough attention is paid to the valve guides. I recently heard of a case where the owner who foolishly tried to do the work himself failed to note that the exhaust valve guides on his particular engine are counter bored about 3/4 inch from the top of the guide. While this is done to help prevent valve stickage unless these bores are cleaned out when the engine is serviced the reconditioned valves are quite likely to start sticking again.

If your tour takes you over a very dusty road be like a friend of mine who usually makes capital of what seem to most people as handicaps. He used the dust to prove whether or not the body design of his car really is streamlined.

This point is decided by noting how much of the kicked up dust deposits on the rear of the car. In a correctly streamlined car the vortex should be about 200 feet behind the car when it is rolling along at road speed. This leaves the rear of the car virtually dust free.

Mechanic Joe Speaking. "One of the widely overlooked causes of engine overheating is a too lean mixture. What happens here is that the engine goes into a fever because it is overworked. Such leanness may be due to the carburetor's float level being set too low. If the heating develops when the car is driven at higher speeds the trouble may easily be due to a weak fuel pump which is not supplying sufficient fuel has the same effect as a low float level. Leanness sometimes results from clogged carburetor jets and or gummed passages. It can also come from leakage around the intake manifold system."

Brake noises sometimes can be traced to misalignment of brake shoes. That is, the shoes do not stay in correct alignment with their drums even though clearances are correct and there is no trouble with the heel or toe of each liner. Such misalignment is due to looseness, usually at the anchor bolts. Thus the shoes are free to shift. Anything that causes such vibration results in noise.

Clever But Impractical. Sometimes what seem to be clever tricks in adjusting the car may turn out to be more bother than they are worth. Typical is changing caster on the right front wheel so as to obtain easier steering when obliged to do a lot of driving over a highly crowned road. The hitch is that when you get back to a level road steering won't be satisfactory. The better stunt is to inflate the right front tire about two pounds more than its mate. Then when you get back to normal roads again you have merely to equalize the pressures.

When your alignment man speaks of turning radius he means the radius of the arc which is described by the car whenever it makes its extreme turn.

Sometimes the smell of gas which becomes so objectionable after the gas tank is filled up is due to fuel that is spilled over and which runs down under the rear fender. There often is a certain amount of air drawn forward under the car by suction.

Speaking of Antiques. Antique hunters will best appreciate the yarn about the man who tried to sell a battered old crate as an 1865 model. Looking the thing over hurriedly the prospect immediately belittled the idea pointing out that they did not have cars in those days.

"Sure," retorted the seller. "That's what makes it so valuable." Much generator trouble is found to be due to this important unit receiving more oil than it needs or oil where lubricant isn't desirable. It isn't just a case of the owner forgetting how often he adds a few drops of light oil to the bearings of the generator but a situation where a nearby crankcase vent may be sending forth oily vapors which blow into the generator. There have been plenty of cases, too, where oil has been spilled over the generator during the process of keeping the engine supplied.

Not Where It Seems. I haven't any idea why it is but a surprising number of owners of cars with automatic drives these days do not realize that often what passes for lack of engine power is plain slippage within the transmission or the torque converter. A recent case concerned an owner who had failed to have the right amount of oil put into the transmission. Leakage of oil from these "drives" causes slippage which is easily mistaken for loss of engine power.

Ran across a car owner the other day who was carefully tightening those brace rods between the engine firewall and the radiator. One seemed a little loose. It made me wonder how many motorists ever think to consider how important these rods are in protecting the radiator and in helping to keep these parts in alignment.

What's Your Car Trouble? Q. What can be used to check static which I get when sliding across the front seat which has plastic covers? H. B. McD.

A. There are special substances which can be applied to the covers to check this. I also understand that paste wax, rubbed to a hard finish, will also help. Those static eliminator straps which dangle to the road from the car's frame won't check the shock from these covers.

Q. Why is it that the modern engine has a lighter flywheel? I should think that with all the power under the hood the flywheel would have to be much heavier. R. W.

A. Because of the use of multi-cylinders it is not necessary to have a heavier flywheel. There are more impulses on the crankshaft.

Q. I have been having difficulty with gasoline leaking out around the fuel filter bowl. Unless I get the bowl back in exactly the same spot there is always trouble. Sometimes have trouble with a new cork gasket. Naturally I am reluctant to keep the bowl cleaned out. J. L. G.

A. Why don't you use a rubber gasket? Q. I have just had a ring job done on the motor. Now the engine is very hard to get started again if I have been running and switch it off to do an errand. There is no trouble whatever when the engine is cold. When hot it seems as if the battery were nearly dead. H. H. J.

A. You will find that the difficulty re-starting engine when it has been running is due to the new rings expanding too much. They are unnecessarily tight. But if you can put up with this for awhile you will probably be rewarded by having the engine run quite well. Be sure to use some additives in the oil to keep the engine limber as possible.

Q. What is meant by the term "cornering"? I have heard this used in many discussions regarding the new cars. K. L. M.

A. This refers to a car's ability to take curves and corners without sway, squeal and wheel flight. Wheelbase and wheel distribution is part of the picture, and so is front-end suspension. There has been greater attention to this factor recently because it is so important to be able to negotiate turns without the car swaying or feeling like it wants to go off the road.

Q. The tires of my car squeal on curves even though they are neither overinflated or underinflated. K. D. C.

A. The design of the treads may be causing this. Some of the newer models in tires do not squeal. Q. How often should the air cleaner be serviced? Wm. L. H.

A. This all depends on where the car is operated. In dusty territory it may be necessary to check this unit every month. In normally dusty country the air cleaner will need attention at least twice yearly.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

AIRFORCE HERO WINS BATTLE

PATERSON, N. J. (AP)—Credit ex-Air Force hero Clarence (Red) Mosley, who lost both hands and feet in Korea, with winning another battle—purely personal.

Red, 23, waded in Thursday and straightened out a little misunderstanding that almost put an end to his Sept. 25 wedding to Ruth Shaw.

"The wedding has been called off by mutual agreement," announced his future mother-in-law early in the day.

This came as a shock to Red, who denied his wedding was canceled but admitted he had a "little fight" with his 22-year-old fiancée the night before.

Red tried vainly for several hours to reach Ruth. He finally managed to see her and talked things out.

Ruth and her mother, Mrs. John Shaw, smilingly agreed with Red when he announced triumphantly: "Everything's going to be all right now."

As for the cause of the spat, nobody would give details.

A new chemical is being placed on the market which will kill weed seeds when raked into moist soil and then, through a further reaction, turn into a fertilizer which will help plant growth when useful seeds are planted.

LEADER ASSAILS GOP ATTITUDE ON RECESSION

REYNOLDSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—State Sen. George M. Leader, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, charges Republican leadership has "no intention of doing anything to alter the course of the present recession in this state."

Speaking at a Jefferson Day dinner Thursday, Leader said unemployment in Pennsylvania is "being deliberately stirred up because the Republican leadership likes a little hard times." He asserted:

"Their (Republicans) biggest campaign contributors prefer a certain amount of unemployment because it creates a favorable labor market—one in which the big stock of collective bargaining can be used against workers everywhere." Leader also contended if jobless benefit claims continue at their present rate the Unemployment Compensation Fund will fall short of the minimum permissible under state law and maximum compensation payments will drop from $30 to $20 a week.

Cite Emergency Amendment. He said, "Only an emergency amendment of the act...can prevent this."

A. J. Caruso, executive director of the Bureau of Employment security, said he saw no reason at this time to say the "safety clause" in the law—reducing the rate of jobless pay benefits—will be invoked this year.

He also said if rates must be reduced the Legislature could act immediately to amend the law.

Leader also spoke at the third annual Pennsylvania Plowing Contest in Bedford, charging economic conditions are poor on Pennsylvania farms.

He offered this four point program which he said would help the farmers:

1. Re-evaluate the disease control program for animals.
2. A better system of market reporting.
3. Promote Pennsylvania farm products through county fairs.
4. Champion the cause of the dairy farmer—not the dealer—before the Milk Control Commission.

Meanwhile, Genevieve Blatt, Democratic candidate for secretary of internal affairs, predicted Thursday in Lancaster the women's vote will decide the outcome of the Nov. 2 election.

Speaking at an outing sponsored by the Lancaster Women's Democratic Club, Miss Blatt said: "In Pennsylvania the women find a Republican administration which boasts of having preserved Pennsylvania's progress, while every statistical study made shows that such prosperity is non-existent."

Nab Extortioner In Police Trap

NEW YORK (AP)—A police trap set in the Fifth Avenue home of Serge Rubinstein Thursday snared the alleged leader of a $635,000 extortion plot against the million-dollar draft dodger.

Two other men also were arrested outside the town house of the Russian-born Rubinstein, who served two years in prison as a World War II draft evader and currently is fighting deportation proceedings.

Seized in the financier's quarters was Emanuel Lester, 31, who assertedly used threats in an attempt to force Rubinstein to settle a pending $750,000 federal court suit for BALTIMORE (AP)—Robert Rose, 70, sporting goods salesman from Harrisburg, Pa., was found dead in bed at the Southern Hotel Thursday.

Police said he apparently died of natural causes. Rose, a traveling representative of the Wilson Sporting Goods Co., checked into the hotel Monday. His body was found by a maid.

$635,000. The suit was filed some months ago as a result of a foreign business transaction.

Raymond H. Shephard, 38, and William Love, 35, were seized outside Rubinstein's home.

Ike To Sign Farm Bill Which Will Provide More Food, Make Production "More Efficient"

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower today signs into law a farm bill representing a major administration victory—a measure he says will provide more food, make production more efficient and stabilize farm income.

The President's vacation headquarters announced his plans to sign legislation (probably before noon, MST) for which he fought perhaps more vigorously than he did for any other program he submitted to the 83rd Congress.

The measure, however, is something of a compromise on Eisenhower's request for broad powers to deal with farm price supports and accumulated food surpluses valued at many millions of dollars.

Both supporters and critics of the President's controversial proposals generally agreed his success marked the biggest and hardest-fought administration victory in the recent session of Congress.

Decide Party Control
Many politicians believe that the omnibus farm bill—changing the direction and pattern of 20 years of government programs—may decide party control of Congress during this campaign year when all House members and more than one third of the Senate face reelection.

In general, the 1954 farm act gives Secretary of Agriculture Benson authority to move government farm price supports up or down.

It also provides new methods for disposal of more than six billion dollars worth of farm surpluses that may bulge to near 10 billions before the year ends.

Biggest change is an end with this year's crops to the mandatory rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity that were installed during World War II to stimulate production of wheat, cotton, corn, rice and peanuts.

"Basic Crops"
They are classed as "basic crops" by law.

Parity is a formula designed to assure farmers a fair return in relation to the price of things they buy.

A sixth basic crop, tobacco, retains 90 per cent support as long as farmers continue to approve strict controls over planting and marketing enforced by heavy penalties.

A most satisfactory victory for Benson and the administration was congressional backing for his move slashing dairy price supports one-sixth — from 90 to 75 per cent of parity — last April 1.

This action came after a half billion dollars worth of perishable butter, cheese and dried milk went into government storage instead of into consumption.

Eliminate Increases
On dairy supports, the Senate extended authority to retain the reduced 75 per cent levels, eliminating increases voted by the House and the Senate Agriculture Committees.

But it accepted a number of House dairy provisions intended to boost consumption and aid the dairy industry.

These include spending of 50 million dollars a year until June 30, 1956, to increase milk consumption by school children; giving butter and cheese surpluses to the armed forces and Veterans' Administration; and provision of 15 million a year to speed up eradication of the cattle disease brucellosis.

One novel administration proposal for dealing with surpluses won easy congressional acceptance. It is a 2½ billion dollar "set aside" of surplus wheat, cotton and dairy products from crops of this and prior years.

Other Provisions
That surplus must move outside normal trade or market channels without disrupting them, for such as foreign and domestic relief, barter, or experimental purposes.

Other provisions in the catch-all farm act include:
A shift of agricultural attaches assigned to foreign nations from supervision and control of the state department to the Agriculture Department. Congressmen say this will improve exports of U.S. farm surpluses.

A two-year extension of the basic farm act, including authority for controls, price supports and conservation payments, beyond the end of this year.

Addition of white or Irish potatoes to the list of farm products eligible for government price supports at from zero to 90 per cent, as determined by the secretary. Potatoes had been banned from any supports for several years after loss of more than 500 million

FAVOR VOTERS BEING ACTIVE IN POLITICS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says he'd like to see millions of newly eligible voters take an active part in politics—and get on the Republican team as well.

The President directed his appeal at five million young American men and women who have come of voting age since the 1952 election.

"In the vigor of the enthusiastic dedication of citizens such as those constituting the Young Republican (national) Federation rests the future of the great Republican party," Eisenhower said in a statement published in the August issue of the federation's News.

The statement also will be used in a federation pamphlet to be distributed to new voters.

The federation, which opened a three-day meeting in Cincinnati dollars on past programs.

Corn, Wheat Raised
An increase in the supply levels of corn and wheat before planting and other production controls can operate. Corn was raised from 10 to 15 per cent above estimated normal supplies and wheat from 15 to 20 per cent above normal, before controls will be considered.

The base period for determining the national and individual corn production was cut from the most recent 10 years to five years. Corn controls were limited to planting on acreage allotments by removing marketing controls which never have been used.

The "common cereal" area for wheat in which controls, penalties and high supports apply was limited to states with an annual production of more than 25,000 acres. This eliminates 12 states.

Wheat farmers who summer fallow, or do not plant, part of their acreage would get special consideration in allocation of reduced acreages.

The secretary of agriculture was directed to consider drought and geographical conditions in his regulations applying to use of land diverted under production controls.

Play Water Music As Storm Strikes

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—The 100-piece Vine Street Musical Workshop Orchestra of Hollywood, in rehearsal for an evening concert, struck up George Handel's "Water Music" yesterday, and as if on cue, a freak August rainstorm opened up, sending the musicians to cover.

After several minutes of watching, Toscha Seidel, violinist and concertmaster tucked his violin under his chin and began playing, "Hymn to the Sun," from Rimsky-Korsakov's opera, "Le Coq d'Or." The rain stopped and the sun came out.

Educators Promote Truant 'Fish Derby'

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—School "fishing derbies" are being encouraged by Jack F. George, director of physical education for New Hampshire's Department of Education. This is an answer to truant school youngsters who prefer to hook a trout rather than answer the 9 a.m. school bell.

Under the "fishing derbies" plan, the youngsters fish from dawn until mid-morning. Then they return to classes and hold a fish fry at lunch hour.

ANACONDA, Mont. (AP)—Milan Lazetich is in for plenty of exercise—walking, that is. A thief stole his car, motorcycle and two saddles.

More than 45 per cent of U.S. deaths now occur in hospitals compared to about 33 per cent in 1936.

Friday, announced a nationwide series of campaign rallies Oct. 14, Eisenhower's 64th birthday.

Other Developments

Other early campaign developments yesterday:
1. The Democratic National Committee announced that Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's 1952 presidential candidate, will address a midwestern states farm rally Saturday night at Sioux Falls, S.D.

2. Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall announced appointment of Lyle O. Snader, 36-year-old clerk of the House of Representatives, to head the GOP Speaker's Bureau for the campaign ahead.

LAY REBATE ONCE DEFEATED BY DEMOCRATS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gene D. Smith, secretary of the commonwealth, said the Democrats years ago had the chance to change a section of state law objected to by Rep. H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria). Smith said in 1941, the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives voted 190-0 to preserve a clause restricting the disclosure of rebates and refunds to state officials.

Andrews, who had been rejected in seeking such information, criticized Smith for his actions on the grounds that as Democratic leader in the House, he acts in the capacity of a state official.

Smith's stand was upheld in an informal opinion advanced by the Justice Department.

GENERAL SAYS SMUG NATION FACE RED PERIL

FT. MONMOUTH, N. J. (AP)—Major Gen. Kirke B. Lawton, retiring commander of this Army Signal Corps center whose name figured prominently in the McCarthy-Army hearings, says "complacent America" is "marching slowly and steadily" toward the dangers of communism.

Lawton spoke Thursday night before 300 religious representatives and post chaplains at a banquet in his honor—the first of several farewell tributes.

"I've got all the confidence in this country if it will only think, and think hard," said Lawton, who is retiring from the Army at the end of the month for medical reasons.

Can't Advocate Worship

Lawton said he recalled the time when an officer could advocate worship more strongly to his men, but remarked that "all hell would break loose if we tried to send men to church today. There are some things you cannot do today, not because of parents but because of some other reasons."

He did not elaborate. The general scoffed at accusations that suspension of civilian workers at the fort as a result of last year's investigation into alleged subversion were motivated by anti-Semitism.

He praised the antifederation league of B'nai B'rith for giving his administration at the fort what he called a clean bill of health in this matter.

"Marx, Lenin and Stalin want destruction of democracy and religion," said Lawton. "We in America are complacent and I'm afraid this time it's going to be too late. We'll wake up some day and ask 'How did I lose my religious freedom?' What strength we would have if we would all worship at church regularly."

The fish was a symbol of Christ in early Christian art.
